

NOVEMBER 10, 2020

1:00-4:20PM CST

MASTERCLASS IN CLINICAL REASONING IN TELEHEALTH

An Online Live Zoom Event

With the rising demand due to COVID-19, an increase in the accessibility and quality of telehealth services has transformed our ways of connecting, learning and supporting clients. Many parents of children with special needs share that their online therapy sessions reach into their homes and translate therapeutic concepts directly into their daily lives. For many of us as therapists, this is what we have always hoped our therapy would achieve: to generalize the skills learned in therapy to support families every day. Telehealth is not intended to replace our valued hands-on, face-to-face assessments and interventions, but it can be and is becoming a valued adjunct. Because therapy in a virtual platform will be part of a hybrid strategy forevermore, now is the time to hone and optimize our online therapy skills.

Session 1 (1:00pm -2:30pm): Coaching Caregivers to Support Basic Motor Skills

Session 2 (2:50pm -4:20pm): Supporting Individuals with Challenging Behavior

REGISTER NOW:

www.integrativeed.com

SPEAKER: Kim Barthel, BMR, OTR

EDUCATIONAL LEVEL:
Intermediate

AUDIENCE: OTs, PTs, and interested others

CONTACT HOURS:
3 Contact Hours
(.3 AOTA CEUs)

PRICE:
$90 USD

GROUP DISCOUNT:
Register with 5 or more people and receive $5 off.
Send an email to:
Education@integrativeot.org
for the coupon code

For more information regarding CE requirements, learning objectives, course descriptions, and speaker
bio, visit us at:
www.integrativeed.com

Recording Available for Two Weeks Following the Live Event

Relationship Matters™

